THE OPPOSITION,

Equally certain is the determined opposition of Mr. Ritchie within the Cabinet and of fifty-four Unionist members of the House of Commons, including Sir John Gorst, ex-Minister of Education Hayes Pisher, another ex-Minister; Lord Hugh Cecil, Lord Salisbury's son, and Winston Churchill, who find their leaders in Lord Goschen in the Lord and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach in the House of Commons. Their Beach in the House of Commons. Their significant that the Liberals fasten upo the bread tax as their rallying point. 'Dear Loafers" is the nickname al ready applied to the Chamberlainites "If that nickname sticks," an anti-Beach in the House of Commons. Their formal resolution, adopted this week, also declares the protective taxation of imported food as impossible, even fatal to Great Britain's industrial position. Possibly, dread of the nickname has aused some Unionists who now are esitating as to which side of the fence they shall alight on to suggest to Chamberlain that he drop the food tax About 200 ministerialists are still hesitating, as are such ministers as the Duke of Devonshire and Lord Lansdowne, but it seems incredible that the Cabinet and the party, thus split into factions, can possibly live through an excited and protracted electorial campaign on vital and national campaign on vital and national bounty-bolstered and tariff-fed prod-ucts of American and German factories. Thus, retaliation is the first and central idea of the resolution adopted by the Intery-eight ministerial members of Parliament who have pronounced for Chamberlain.

Chamberlain's own nominal Liberal Unionist leader in the Cabinet, the Duke of Devonshire, expressly stated yesterday that he gravely doubted the expediency of fax on food products, but Chamberlain will have no such limitations. He insists that the dear-food cry is a mere bogsy, and is quite prepared to argue it out and prove to the working classes that higher wages and other benefits will more than outweigh any possible increase in the prices of bread and mest. The taxation of these two food products alone will, he declares suffice is induse the colonies to make give necessary concessions. PRESIDENT'S WORDS WILL TRAVEL FAR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Forty-four expert telegraphers will waft the President's message around the world today by the new Pacific Cable. They expect to break all records, including the excellent figure of 40 minutes credited to Mons. Puck by the infallible Shakespeare. If present calculations are realized the President's message to Gov. Taft in Manila will be delivered at Manila within five minutes of the time it leaves Oyster Bay. From Manila Gov. Taft's reply will return by way of Hongkong, Saigon, Singapore, Penang, Madras, Bombay, Aden, Suez, Alexandria, Malta, Gibraltar, Lisbon, the Azores, Canso and New York to Oyster Bay.

Supt. Usher of the Postal Telegraph Company has gone to Oyster Bay, whence he will telegraph the President's message at 9 o'clock a. m. Every operator who handles it will make his fingers fly as if life and death were at stake, for there will be at issue the world's record for telegraphing. It is likely that at every relay station someone will call out the message word by word as fast as it is received, so that long before the signature has left Oyster Bay at least half of the message will be at Honolulu and the first word or two will be in the Manila office of the Commercial Cable Company. Thus it will be raced around the world.

The only thing waited for now is notice that the last link of the Pacific cable from Midway to Honolulu has been completed. William H. Baker, vice-president and general-manager of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company said last evening: "We are advised that the cable steamer Angelia has arrived off Honolulu and is proceeding with the work of laying the shore end of the Commercial Pacific cable. It is expected the work will be completed tonight or early tomorrow

Nothing has been heard since from Honolulu up to a late hour last night at the Postal Telegraph Company's headquarters or the Commercial Cable office in Broad street.

ANGLIA REACHES HONOLULU.

HONOLULU, July 3 .-- [By Pacific Cable to the Associated Press.] The cableship Anglia arrived here this morning, bearing the Honolulu end of the trans-Pacific cable, now extending from Manila, via Guam and Midway Islands, to this port. The cable will be landed at once and connected with the section of line from Honolulu to San Francisco, already in operation. Unless some untoward event should occur, the complete line will be in operation by tomorrow morning, in accordance with the announcement made long since by Clarence Mackay, president of the Pacific Commercial Cable Company.

No hitch in the arrangement is anticipated, and the first message over the new line will almost certainly be transmitted by the President to Gov. Taft promptly at noon tomorrow.

HITCH IN OPERATIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 4 - [Exclusive Dispatch.] A special cable to the second edition of the American from Honolulu, July 4, says:

"Operations on landing the Pacific Cable were suspended at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon owing to the parting of the rope hauling the line from the cable ship Anglia. The breakers are very rough."

This cablegram was repeated to Night Manager Whalin of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company in this city at midnight. He said: "We are without any information, further than the bare fact that the work of laying the completing link of the cable from Manila to San Francisco has been temporarily suspended. We can only hope that the cableship will be able to effect a anding before noon tomorrow."

I regard my candidacy with the same favor as in the past, for although I feel myself possessed of a great, noble and patriotic ambition, and while I ex-perience pride which is natural under the circumstances, it does not seem to me that a man who is well past the age at which all civilized countries dispense with public servants can be on who is best suited to guide forward the march of a young and high-spirited nation. The Ex-President Writes & Fourth-or July Letter to the Organization He Once Affected to Despise. . . 7

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, July 3.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) That Grover Cleveland had a stout string attached to the inter-view which he accorded to the correspondent of a Galveston paper recently, in which he told of his great love of home life and his reluctance to once more appear in the political limelight, was made manifest today when the ancement was put forth that the sage of Princeton would send a letter to Tammany to be read at today's annual patriotic pow-wow of the city's Demo-cratic organization.

It is the first time in ten years that Cleveland has deigned to honor Tammany by his notice. While he was President, he was implacably the foe of Tammany. But Tammany is licking its chops just now in anticipation of a great city victory in November. The Tiger expects to roll up another mighty majority like that given Coler last November. Tammany will control the next Democratic convention which will name delegates to the next national convention, and the New York State delegates will probably dictate the next Democratic nominee for the Presidency.

TOLD BY HIS LOG.

FATE OF WILLIAM ODE. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The fate behind as watchman on the wreck of the schooner Courtney Ford, which ran ashore on Izenbek Island, Alaska, on September 30, 1902, is toid with dramatic realism in the log kept by the unfortunate man, which has just reached here. It was found beside his dead body by revenue cutter officers and covers a period of four months from October 4, 1902, down to the following February, when in pencil, faintly traced opposite the entries of February 3 and 4, are the words: "Death at last. Four months alone." He has set down the happenings of that quarter year, giving a complete calendar of events, all leading to one end; the extinguishment of Willium Ode, sailor. When the Courtney Ford was shore on Izenbek Island, Alaska, on Ode, sailor.

When the Courtney Ford was wrecked the captain and surviving members of the crew were picked up and landed at Seattle, leaving Ode behind until relief was sent him. This only happened a few days ago when the schooner Carrie and Annie with wrecking apparatus on board, left for Izenbek, too late, however, to be of service to the sailor who had watched in vain for her.

The boy, realizing danger, told Ruth to throw away her punk. She did so, but a gust of wind blew it into the powder, which exploded. The girl's fluffy garments caught fire, and she was badly burned. The explosion burned the faces of both children, and their eyes are so badly closed that it is impossible to tell if they have been blinded. The girl is in a precarious condition.

CHINESE UNLIKELY TO LARGELY ATTEND ST. LOUIS FAIR.

Native Papers Point Out that Chinese Will be no Better than Prisoners During Their Stay.

IRY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.) PEKING. July 3.—[By Asiatic Ca-ble.] The United States Treasury reg-ulations regarding the Chinese visitors to the St. Louis Exposition, are arbi-trarly criticized in the native press. and it is believed will demoralize China's efforts to take creditable part in the exposition. The most objectionable points in the eyes of the natives are the $500 bond, the photographic identi-fication, police supervision of the visiting Shinese, and the expulsion fro America of the Chinese workmen and assistants, when the fair closes. The press points out that the Chinese vis-itors will be no better than prisoners

The official newspaper of Chi Li province, whose utterances are understood to be directed by Yuan Shiki, the Governor, taunts America with hypocritical pretense of friendly interrourse, and says the politeness with which what is called the most just na-tion on earth treats its guests, is a warning to Chinese merchants and oth-ers throughout the Empire to seriously reflect. If they are contemplating ers throughout the Empire to seriously reflect, if they are contemplating a visit to St. Louis. . The tone of the press has already in-duced many Chinese to forego the idea of exhibiting at the exposition.

The First Civil Tribunal today heard the arguments in the suit brought against Ccunt Boni de Castellane by a holder of bills to the amount of $16,000, drawn by Count Boni to the order of the Marquis De Dion. The latter had previously explained to the court that he lent Ccunt Boni $50,000 to meet debts of honor, and received the bills in exchange. The claim was for a portion of these bills, which is outstanding.
Count Boni contended that a technical irregularity in drawing them up invalidated the bills. The tribunal adjudged that Count Boni and the Marquis De Dion must, conjointly, pay the $16,000.

IRY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.) (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A M.)
ST. PETERSBURG, July 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.]. In regard to President Rossevelt's decision to forward to the Russian government the petition in behalf of the Russian Jews, the Foreign Office has made the following statement:

The petition from the Guild Hall meeting called by the Lord Mayor of London in 1891 was returned through the Foreign Office hopes the Americans will not invite such a slight. They would resent an antilynching petition. The Foreign Office hopes the Americans will not invite such a slight. They would resent an antilynching petition. The Foreign Office has no special interest in the question except a desire that international relations remain unharmed since the matter is purely domestic, and belongs to another ministerial department."

In an article which, in official circles is declared to be inspired, the Novoe Vremya combats the claim of the United States government that Russia should grant American Jews free access to Russian territory.

The Novoe Vremya declares that if all American Jews were admitted to Russia, "it would not be long before thousands of Jews who have left Russia for various reasons would reflock to Russia in the guise of American citizens, just as they are doing in Roomania, Bulgaria and Turkey. If Russia acceded to the United States' wish she could not refuse to grant similar privalence in the case of smaller countries.

Succuumbs to Grief and Fatigue and Fatigu the petition will be received, but Alex-ander III would never have received

The Novoe Vremya also refers to the United States restricting immigration, and concludes: "While Russia in no way assumes the right of criticising the internal measures of the United States, she, on the other hand, will not tolerate the least interference in her private affairs on the part of Americans."

Charles Fournier, employes of the Pneumatic Transit Company, are under arrest here charged with conspiracy to embessle and open and destroy letters in the United States mail. Bertam Laycock, who was stationed at Broad-street station, the end of the pneumatic service, was arrested, and after a hearing before a United States Commissioner he was held in $1000 bail. At the hearing he confessed, and implicated his brother Albert and Fournier, who were stationd in the Central postoffice.

Postoffice inspectors say the men confessed to having taken special-delivery letters from the carriers of the pneumatic tubes, among them being letters from A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company; John Wansmaker and the Trust Company of North America.

The arrests were the outcome of a chase after a rat at Seventeenth and Filbert street toward the arches of the elevated tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad. T. J. McCarthy, a telephone linemen gave chase. Seeing a large hole he thrust in a stick. No rat appeared, but when the stick was pullel out it brought with it two letters. McCarthy saw that they were rekistered, and addressed to A. J. Cassatt and William J. Thompson. Again inserting the stick, the man brought forth three more letters, all registered. McCarthy notified the Chief of Postal Inspectors, and the arrests followed.

IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 3 .- [Ex-SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 2.—[EX-glusive Dispatch.] The State's Attor-ney and District Attorney have filed a suit against the San Antonio Trades Council for damages in the sum of $6000 for boycotting a building in which non-union labor was employed. The suit is of the greatest importance, in-assuuch as it involves the legality of ting.

The building in question is a new three-story brick structure erected by Dr. F. Herff, and the boycott arose over the employment of hon-union men to do electrical work in the building. The suit comes under the head of violating the anti-trust law, in that the Trades Council has conspired to injure the patronage of the building by issuing a notice to union men not to enter the building, under penalty of a fine from the union.

The section of the anti-trust law under which the suit is brought, follows: "Where any two or more persons, firms, corporations or associations of persons agree to boycott or threaten to refuse to buy from, or sell to, any person, firm, corporation, or association of persons for buying from or selling to any other person, firm, corporation or association of persons." The punishment for violation of the law is a penalty of 350 a day for the duration of the offense, or imprisonment one year in the penling before the grand jury and District Attorney. opinion among lawyers as to whether this law can be applied to labor unions, and the suit just instituted will give an opportunity for the Supreme Courd Texas to pass on the question.

This is thought to be the first case in the United States in which a State has proceeded against labor unions. The remedy has usually been by injunction.

The petition also prays for an injunction restraining the defendants from further interference with the rights of Ferdinand Herff, owner of the boycotted building, and from further conspiracies against the citizens of the State of Texas, but in an interview the District Attorney stated that the union had agreed to raise the boycott during the pendency of the suit. The petition represents that on June 11, 1903, the defendants named, both in their official and individual capacities, and acting respectively for San Antonio Trades Council and local Union No. 60, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, together with other persons unknown, members of the Trades Council and Electrical Workers (Union, entered into an agreement and understanding with each other whereby they agreed to boycott and refuse to buy from or trade with or patronize any person, firm or corporation or association of persons who rented or occupied any portion of said building because one A. On account of the severity of the punishment, the Attorney-General and District Attorney decided it would be better not to proceed by indictment, owing to the difficulty of obtaining a conviction, especially when a test of the validity of the law could be effected by civil proceedings. BURDETTE TO TAKE CHURCH.

Will Become an Active Pastor in Los Angeles.

New Baptist Congregation at Sixth and Hill.

Famous Minister, Lecturer and Author Assumes Duties Last Sunday in July.

Rev. Robert J. Burdette has decided to reënter the minister al field as an active pastor, and Los Angeles will be the field of his labors. He will be at the head of a new Baptist congregation, and will preach twice every Sunday, beginning July 26, in the old First Congregational Church edifice at the corner of Sixth and Hill streets.

This newsy announcement will thrill with surprise and delight the hundreds of thousands of Burdette's admirers in this city, and provoke pleased comment throughout the country.

Mr. Burdette will start with a flock of about 300 members. The formation of the new congregation, and the securing of Mr. Burdette as its pastor, are the results of a meeting called a few weeks ago by the Rev. C. T. Douglass, home missionary for the Southern California Raptist convention, for the purpose of devising plans to provide a church home for about 300 unattached Baptists resident in Los Angeles, At this meeting the following Committee of Twenty-five, to perfect arrangements, was appointed.

C. H. Barker, chairman; C. R. Harris, secretary; E. E. Seiph, Leonard Merrill, Leslie W. Gray, C. A. Baskerville, W. B. Jones, Da. F. M. Parker, Dr. J. C. McCoy, Dr. W. B. Percival, Frederick E. In the membership personnel of this committee is represented every Baptist interest in the city, as members from every Baptist church in Los Angeles are on the committee. After a careful canvass of the field had been made it was found that there were in Los Angeles at least 300 Baptist adherents who were not attached to any iceal congregation, and the need of a new "downtown" congregation of Baptists was made apparent—"to relieve the situation."

new "downtown" congregation of Baptists was made apparent—"to relieve the situation."

Resultantly, the Committee of Twenty-five met on Friday evening of last week and appointed the following subcommittee to wait upon Mr. Burdette and request him to accept the pastorate of such a congregation: C. H. Barker, Leonard Merrill, C. R. Harris and H. G. James.

This committee met with Mr. Burdette at his home in Pasadena last Saturday. After listening to the proposal Mr. Burdette said he would take it under consideration and give his answer later. On Thursday of this week he notified the subcommittee of his acceptance.

Last evening the Committee of Twenty-five met and received with great enthusiasm the favorable report of the subcommittee. At this meeting arrangements were completed for the formal organization and incorporation of the new congregation, and the following committee was appointed to have charge of the details; E. E. Selph, chairman; Leslie W. Gray, Dr. J. C. McCoy, Leonard Merrill, Dr. F. M. Parker, C. A. Baskerville and C. R. Harris.

The complaint has been amended four times, demurrers having been sustained in each instance. Stewart's action was for a half interest in the mines and Stewart's mines, his claim being that he located the mineral and showed it to Douglass with the understanding that the latter was to file on the property jointly with himself. Douglass filed on the property in his own name and tass since been negotiating for the sale of the developments of Aristochemics of Cochise, Graham, Gila and Yavapai, the mines of Cochise, Graham, Gila and Yavapai, and in the southeastern corner of the Territory. An "Embarrassing Profusion" of Mineral Weath.

Where the Copper Developments Are Located-Rank of the Camps-Prospects.

BISBEE (Ariz.) June 30 .- The Territory of Arizona is as great in area as New York, Pennsylvania, and several of the adjacent smaller States com-bined. Its railroad development is scent, and the distances are great. To visit its various/camps and to report fully on each, would be a matter of the Territory is liberally supplied, ar practically all metalliferous. Gold, silver and copper are found nearly everywhere throughout the hills, and lead is but little less common. This very profusion of mineral wealth is embarrassing, for not every showing copper and the precious metals, are in all likelihood worthless, yet are held doggedly by their owners, and Lixiviation is quite extensively used in Graham county, and will probably come into even more general use in the future. The principal copper-producing camps of Arizona rank approximately as follows, in point of output: Clifton, Morenci, Bisbee, Jerome, Globe, Bisbee has shown a remarkable gain owing to the beginning of production by the Calumet and Arisona mine, which is now one of the four largest copper producers in the Territory, and one of the ten largest in the world. The Graham county mines are also showing an increase, or were doing so previous to the present strike, owing partly to the beginning of production to the New Shannon mine, but mainly to increased production secured at the older mines. Jerome has shown a decrease latterly, owing to a combination of troubles, that included an exceptionally serious mine fire, and a tion of troubles, that included an exceptionally serious mine fire, and a strike, that affected the entire mine and smelter force. The Treadwell is the most advanced among the prospects of the Jerome district. As a rule, the prospects in the Jerome district are being developed on a scale that will take many years to make a producing mine, even with favorable developments.

In addition to the important centers In addition to the important centers of copper production already named, there are other points of more or less development and promise, as at Pearce, Cochise county, in Coconino county, Pinal county and Maricopa county, There are also copper prospects in Yuma county, and elsewhere.

in which he asserts that the average length of human life is steadily increasing. He maintains that one-third of all the deaths registered in Munich are due to heart disease, brought on by the immoderate use of beer, and that tobacco also claims a large percentage of the victims.

Among forty centenarians who have come under his notice there was only one smoker, while nearly all confessed to a moderate use of alcohol.

What Prof. Pfluger most seriously warns people against is the thought and fear of death. The mind must be occupied, he says, in order to secure longevity. Hard-working men who, retire rarely live much longer.

The German census statistics show that in 1871 the centenarians numbered 147 men and 287 women, but in 1900 only five men and thirty women.

As is well known, in Munich the consumption of beer per capita is greater than elsewhere in the world and the percentage of heart disease is higher. Beer has a worse influence on the heart than either wine or whisky. Tobacco is better borne by adults and the aged than by youth. No child should be allowed to smoke before the age of 21. Wine has been said to be used until past the noon of life. That the German census shows a reduction of old men since the war with France

It is a glorious anniversary, in which every true American should feel a glow of pride and thankfulness. THE DAY WE CELEBRATE

On the fourth day of July, 1776, just one hundred and twentyeven years ago today, "the Representatives of the United States of merica, in General Congress assembled," adopted by unanimous vote the promulgating to the world the an-nouncement that "these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, tablish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do. And, for the support of this declaration," say the framers, in conclusion, "with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes,

In all that has been said about the lynching of negroes in the South, there has been no better nor simpler statement of fundamental truth than this from one of the world's great men, Booker T. Washington:

"The lesson to learn is that both in the making and in the execution the same law should be made to apply to the negro as to the white. There should be theted out equal justice to the black man and the white man. Whenever the nation forgets, or is tempted to forget, this basic principle, the whole fabric of government for both the white and the black is threatened with destruction. This is true whether it relates to conditions in Texas, Indiana or Delaware."

Four inches of snow fell in Eldors Colo., on Thursday night. In New York Philadelphia, Washington, Pittsburgh Chicago, and other eastern cities, there were many deaths and more prostra-tions from the heat. In Los Angeles the gentle sea breezes brought cool-ness, comfort and health to all who would accept the gifts, without mone and without price. It is a great cour try, and Los Angeles is its Mecca.

John F. Francis was a native of Clinton, lowa, and was of English parentage, his father having been a shipbuilder on the Clyde and Mersey rivers. At the age of 16 years he enlisted in the Eighteenth Kapsas Volunteer Cavalry, serving under the noted Capt. David L. Payne during the memorable Indian campaign of 1867 on the frontier of Western Kansas. He spent several years of adventurous life on the great plains and among the mountains of California and in the Territories.

He inherited a considerable fortune from his father, who had established himself in Cincinnati, and with this he was able to enjoy his passion for travel, and spent many years of delightful recreation in that manner. In 1885 he returned to California, temporarily, to be called back to the East by the death of a relative, and it was not until 1891 that he became a permanent citizen of Los Angeles.

In 1892, Mr. Francis was married to Miss Maria de las Reyes Dominguez, one of the daughters of Dom Manuel Dominguez, who had been rewarded san officer of the King of Spain during the Spanish occupation, by the large grant of land known as the Rancho San Pedro. For several years after his marriage, Mr. Francis lived quietly with his wife, enjoying a delightful domestic life. He mixed but little in social affars, and it was only after he gradually became acquainted with the more prominent business men of the community that his great executive ability and lofty public spirit began to be appreciated. He identified himself with the Chamber of Commerce, and when once connected with the official life of that institution his tremendous energy and unselfish nature were quickly recognized and forced him. unwillingly to the front.

A Mean Advantage. John Bruce and Clint Pease were chums. Their stores adjoined, and when business was dull the two young merchants visited back and forth. in and John stepped forward to wait on her.

"I am soliciting subscriptions for an organ for our church," said she.

Now, solicitors of this character were numerous in that town, and merchants used to try to dodge them, since it was not deemed good policy to refuse to contribute. So John was considerably pleased with himself when a happy way out of his present difficulty suggested itself to his quick mind.

"You will have to speak to the proprietor about that," said he, politely.

"You will find him a very liberal man. He is back there by the stove."

John grinned as the young woman epproached Clint and stated her case.

"How much are the merchants generally giving?" Clint asked, with grave interest in the cause.

"Some are giving as much as a dollar," she answered, "but we are grateful for any sum, however small."

"John," said Clint, with an air of authority, "give the young lady $2 out of the drawer."

And John, of course, had to do it.—[Brooklyn Eagle.

"I want to preach a little early-morning sermon, and my subject is 'Hooflums.' This here Fourth of July Institution wasn't created for the purpose of giving young fools a chance to shoot up the town of Los Angeles or to play mean tricks that would earn 'em a blamed good beating by peaceable citiesns on any other day in the year. Fun's all right, and most siny style of racket-machine goes, but there's unsuspended ordinances against setting women's dresses afire with 'devil chasers,' putting folks' eyes out with rockets fired across the street, blowing street cars off their hinges with 'devil chasers,' putting folks' eyes out with rockets fired across the street, blowing street cars off their hinges with sulphur and saltpeter, tying firecackers to animals' tails, throwing torpedoes under horses' feet, shooting off firearms and doing other devilment calculated to endanger life or property. It don't go. If I catch—"

The rest of the sergeant's sermon was lost to record in the detonation of two tons of II-horse-power bombs that at that instant went into commission in front of The Times office in honor of the arival of the Glorious Fourth, and all further speech without the aid of a megaphone was rendered impracticable for about thirty consecutive minutes. Uncle Sam's birthday had indeed arrived.

As a matter of fact, the Fourth sailed into Los Angeles about dusk resterday evening, with a dissipated roar of anticipation that set irascible pedestrians to side-stepping in rag time, caused drivers of spirited horses to forsake the illuminated thoroughfares, made the cabmen pray in Spanish, effectually drowned the ordinary rattle of traffic, and charged all the down-town air with the pungent smell of powder.

The first section of the grand celebration train certainly came in a-running, with your Uncle Samuel perched on the oweather, a bunch of red fire is each hand and a '33 ball Roman candle, between his teeth.

The incipient poppings of small boy firecrackers, that had been timidly heralding the Fourth for a couple of days, gave place to a really business-like hilarity with the arrival of dusk, and from then on till early morning it was cotton in your ears or go deaf. Sad to relate, the hoodium of whom big Sergeant Jeffries, so cloquently complained was early on the streets, and three of them got carted to jail before the clock in the tower struck 12. The sergeant himself spoiled the "fun" of the most audaclous bunch of woeworkers, who had selected Fourth street, across from the Los Angeles Pacific Station, as a vantage point from which to dispatch Roman-candle balls, "devil-chasers" and other fiery implements of jubilation into the throngs of women passers-by. One woman's summer gown caught fire from one of these alarming devil-chasers, and her secort threatened to insugurate a healthy riot.

In the main, however, the celebrators contented themselves with such pleasant frivoilties as tamping pedestrians toes with bomb-canes, slipping lighted "camons" down the necks of corner-liders, exploding torpedoes against derty hats, and boosting loaded street-

The Great Wheat Harvest. The Great Wheat Harvest.

On the threshold of a wheat harvest farser than the entire wheat harvest of Great Britain and Ireland, Kansas calls for men to gather in its grain. Sometimes Russia mobilizes its soldiers and turns them into the wheat fields of its south and west. It will take more outside aid than an army corps filled sup to a war basis to get in the grain of the sunflower state. Were our entire regular army order into the field. Kansas could find employment for mearly the whole of it; it is estimated that perhaps it,000 more hands will be needed there than are now in the market, for the next three weeks we shall hear of tramps abducted from car bunkers and pressed into the service, and colleges closing early in order to add their young men, and even their young women to the regiments of the preapers.

when Cromwell rode sho Oxford upon a small horse with his single plume fastened into a kind of knot, the whole outfit intended to suggest Puritan horror of high-stepping steeds and waving plumes, some waggish cavalier invented the following rhyme and set it affoat to the homely melody of labor. "Tankee Doodle came to town Upon a Kentish pony; He stuck a feather in his cap Upon a macaroni. "A macafoni" was a small rosette, in shape and size like an Italian macaroni, called so from a blunder of the English in confusing the names of two Italian dishes so similar in pronunciation and spelling. The term first came to this country in 1750. Braddock was assembling our forefathers near Albany for an attack on the French and Indians at Fort Niagars and Frontinac. As the continental troops came in wearing all the fashions that had been seen in England for hundreds of years and bearing every weapon but those familiar to the British troops, the old picture of Cromwell and the Kentish pony rose before the eyes of another waggish cavalier.

"Dr. Richard Schuckburg, regimental surgeon, was a wit and a musician. Planning a joke for the amusement of the camp, he wrote out the score of "Yankee Doodle" and gave it to the leader of the Continental Band, as the latest martial music. It was easily caught, and 'enthusiastically played amid shouts of laughter in the English ranks. Twenty-five years later there was less mirth when the English army with Lord Cornwallis at its head surrendered to the Continentalis whose band was playing "Yankee Doodle."

The Story of the Origin of This Patriotic Song.

PECIALLY CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES. HERE was a time in this land of the free and home of the brave when "Yankee Doodle" was heard of liles strings, keys, horns and or syed to that air so sweet and strong row with such fire and vim as those set it when first those brave hearts in times which tried men's souls left cir fields and plows, their shops and lis, their stores and their yard cks, with their guns in their hands fight their King and his red-coaten to win this broad land for a free me for the brave for all time. In Pearson's Magazine some months sto beneath the words "Where our old ness come from," it was said that it not known where the zir known as sankee Doodle" came from. But that is not the fact, for in the retican Law Review-published at ston, Mass, May, 184, it is set forth: When Cromwell rode that oxygent and the previous election in any one of two hundred entire division. J ACQUARD AUCLAIR, editor of the local French paper, L'Union Nouvelle, has interested himself in a illustre d'entre eux, pour parties de la company de la co project for the organization of a soproject for the organization of the ciey that shall tend to bring Americans and Franco-Americans into closer relationship. Mr. Auclair considers that as France is the leading republic of the et en même temps un grand et en mêm world, outside of the United States, there should be more sympathy and in-timacy between the people of the two countries. As a testimonial to the na-tal day of his adopted country, Auclair "I was a sufferer from nervous debility and would probably be suffering yet if I had not seen Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People mentioned in a newspaper, article. I am a sign painter by trade and the nervousness compelled me to drop work entirely. For two weeks I was confined to my bed. The usual remedies were prescribed but did not help me. My appetite failed and I believe that my liver became affected for I was hopeless and despondent. Then I saw the article about a wonderful cure effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decide to try them. They helped me from the start. I soon found that my nerves were steadler, I regained my appetite, increased in has written an article on Washington for his journal, of which the following is a free translation:

The American national holiday only precedes ours by a few days. The capture of the Bastile is the understudy of the Deciaration of Independence. This grand and immortal sate shows to what brilliant heights may aspire the energy and genius of a man like Washington. This is really the greatest benefit conferred upon humanity by those noble ideas, the development of which among the nations of the earth gives the measure of civilization. They do not merely serve to make wealth, but to make men. Amidst the conflict of varied interests, they safeguard the treasury vault of divine liberty, in which is deposited the sacred flame.

America, like France, has its great men. I have devoted sufficient study to their achievements and character to be able to say here that Washington was a man complete in himself, and the only one of his kind. He was at once a soldler and a great politician, for he had the "genius of affairs," a broad comprehension of great ideas, a patience of details, a knowledge of men, a power of looking in truture, a fertility of expedients, an energy of will, an ability to command men, the confidence of his country and a universal renown. It cannot be denied that Washington was the forerunner of our revolution.

He says himself that he had long meditated on military strategy. Personally brave, and born with heroic blood in his veins, his iron temperament, his wide range of observation, his wonderful natural faculities, his presence of mind and his impregnable firmness in thme of peril inevitably destined him to reach, at an early age, the highest honors of military life. Finally, he was the men of those great times to whom God accorded the double power of tearing down and of reconstructing. Washington was equally fitted for these two make by the newer of his genius, and by the steadfastness of his will. He had that which is so much lacking among us today. He had character and energy, governed by a strong and indomitable will, convictions that our two nations, notwithstanding their of Man. We read in the American Decision in these beautiful and noble words:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creation with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life. Iberty and the pursuit of happiness," and, further on:

"Governments are instituted among men deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

It was to define these ideas that Lafayette left at the age of 20 years for America, and that France assisted the young republic with men and money. This craving for independence cannot be entirely expressed in precepts and sentences, but it has produced one of the finest efforts of a great people, and one of the most beautiful pages in the history of the world. It is to this yearning for liberty, this implacable desire for freedom from the British yoke, that we owe one of the most magnificent and chivalrous epochs that are inscribed upon the roll of humanity.

La fête nationale américaine ne précède la nôtre que de quelques jours. La Prise de la Bastille est la sœur cadette de la déclaration de l'Indépendance. Cette grande date immortelle aussi, qui montra à quelles hauteurs lumineuses pouvaient monter la force et le génie d'un homme comme Washington. C'est là le plus grand bienfait de ces nobles idées dont le développement chez les peuples, donne la mesure de leur civilisation. Elles ne forment pas seulement des riches, mais des hommes; au milieu de la tempête des intérêts déchatnés elles gardent le dépôt de la flamme sacrée dans le sanctuaire de la divine liberté.

I have been selling Kodol Dyspepsia Cure since 1897 and have never had a single complaint. rations. A variety of food and plenty of it is necessary.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the remedy that will let you eat all you need-or want. If you will use Kodol you will soon be able to eat any and all kinds of food. Kodol is the only digestant or combination of digestants that will digest all classes of food. When you take Kodol everything you eat tastes good, and every bit of the nutriment that it contains is assimilated and appropriated by the blood and tissues. Did you ever hear of a man or woman being sick or weak who could eat heartily and who enjoyed their meals? The club topssil on the Shamrock I broke at the topmasthead when she had four miles to sail. She was thirteen minutes behind the new boat when the damage was repaired, and the race resumed. Before the accident, the Shamrock III beat the old boat 4½m. running to leeward fifteen miles and nearly four minutes in sailing a long leg close-hauled.

The new cup-seeker was hardly up to her standard today. Ordinarily, in a light wind, such as prevailed, she is lom, better than her namesake in a fifteen-miles run, but changes which had been made in her trim and reduction in her ballast had not improved ther. The wind during today's trial varied from two knots to about seven. The course was thirty miles long. In elapsed time, the Shamrock III won by 5m.20s.

without everything we needed. When I was first married my salary was $30 a month.

My mother-in-law, who lived with us, decided to save enough out of my salary to build us a home.

When the cellar was finished, I became ill and lost my position, and had to mortgage the cellar to make my first payment.

Although we went without food for thirty days the first year, we never missed a monthly payment. The taxes, interest on mortgage and monthly payments on house were now three times the amount of my earnings. However, by dispensing with the services of a doctor, we lost our father and mother-in-law, which so reduced our expenses that we were able to pay for the parlor floor and windows.

In ten years seven of our nine children died, possibly owing to our diet of excelsior and prunes.

I only mention these little things to show how we were helped in saving for a home.

I wore the same overcoat for fifteen vears, and was then able to build the front porch, which you see at the right of the front door.

Now, at the age of $1, my wife and I feel sure we can own our comfortable little home in about ten years and live a few weeks to enjoy it.—[Life.
